Did you report your use tax?

Most businesses owe use tax through their normal business activities.

What is use tax?

Use tax is a tax on the use of goods or certain services in Washington when sales tax has not been paid. Goods used in this state are subject to either sales or use tax, but not both. Use tax compensates when sales tax has not been paid. Use tax is the same rate as sales tax.

When is use tax due?

Use tax is due if:

- Goods are purchased in another state that does not have a sales tax or a state with a sales tax rate lower than Washington's. For example, items you purchase in Oregon that are used in Washington are subject to use tax.
- Goods are purchased from someone who is not authorized to collect sales tax. For example, purchases of furniture from an individual through a newspaper classified ad or a purchase of artwork from an individual collector.
- Goods are purchased out of state by subscription, through the Internet, or from a mail order catalog company. Many of these companies collect Washington's sales tax, but if the company from which you order does not, you owe the use tax.
- Personal property is acquired with the purchase of real property. For example, furnishings or equipment purchased with a building.

How do I pay use tax?

To pay use tax, complete Section II of the Business & Occupation Activities Return (enclosed). Use tax is owed on the value of the goods when they are first used in Washington. Generally, this is the purchase price. However, a depreciated value may be determined if the goods are used outside the state for a lengthy time before use in Washington by the same person. Use tax is also due on any freight, delivery, or shipping charges paid to the seller.

Your use tax rate is the same as your sales tax rate. To find the correct rate for your area, use our Tax Rate Lookup Tool at dor.wa.gov/TaxRateLookup.
